Arabs Claim Capture Of Jerusalem Near

Austrian Treaty Talks Reach Dead End Again

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—Official United States sources said tonight that the four-power talks on an Austrian peace treaty will be called off indefinitely.

The breakdown, which follows a temporary suspension two weeks ago, came after nearly two years of futile effort to resolve the differences between Russia on one side and the United States, Britain and France on the other.

The sources said the indefinite suspension came yesterday when Samuel Reber, chief of the American delegation, met privately with M. P. Kotimov, head of the Soviet delegation, to talk over chances of reaching an Austrian accord.

(In Berlin, the Russian military administration today protested as illegal an American action banning Russian-sponsored publications from the U. S. zone of Germany and demanded its immediate revocation.)

IT WAS THIS issue which two weeks ago caused temporary suspension of the Austrian peace talks. (Continued on Page Eight)

CONTROL MOST OF HOLY CITY; JEWS RETREAT

Zionists Badly Beaten
As 80% of Shrine Spot Falls to Invaders

CAIRO, Egypt, May 20 (AP) Trans-Jordan's Arab legion claimed possession or access to 80 percent of Jerusalem's old city tonight and advanced steadily against retreating Jewish fighters in the new city.

AP correspondent Daniel De Luce reported from the old city that legionnaires captured Tiferet Israel synagogue, Jerusalem's tallest building, today. He said Haganah and Irgun Zvai Leumi's Jewish fighters had withdrawn into another old city landmark, Beit Yacov synagogue, for a last ditch stand.

The end of the three-day battle for the old city appeared to be in sight. An unofficial report said the Arab legion had possession of Zion Gate, possibly the best escape route for Jewish fighters if the Arabs finally drive them out of the old city.

In the new city, legionnaires forced back Jewish detachments from the northern edge of the Meah Shearim quarter and carried them into position for a raging battle to clear the Jews from Allenby square. Arabs also bombarded Benbediya, a Jewish quarter northwest of Jerusalem which temporarily is menacing the right flank of the Arabs' southward sweep.

HAGANAH WAS reported to have evacuated its stronghold in the government printing building in southwestern Jerusalem, but still held the railway station.

The Jewish and Arab air forces swapped blows during the day in aerial activity featured by the emergence of the Jewish air fighters. The Jews took to the air in an effort to check the initial phase of an Arab drive to cut off Zionist settlements in Northeast Palestine from Israel's main strength in the coastal plain.

The first Jewish air raid, announced today, was aimed Wednesday at Samakh, at the southern end of the Sea of Galilee, on a main Arab route into the northeast region.

An Egyptian defense ministry communique said Egyptian planes bombed oil stores, factories and power stations south of Tel Aviv today, making "direct hits which caused many heavy explosions." The objectives were left ablaze, the communique said.

SYRIAN PLANES, a communique said, bombed Jewish convoys at Kfar Kema, south of the Sea of Galilee, and raided the Jewish settlements of Kinnereth and Yavneel. Planes attacked the settlements of Ramot Naphtali, Nabi Yusha and Mishmar Hayarden in the same area.

The Egyptian defense ministry announced that Egyptian mobile forces occupied Beersheba, southernmost limit of the Holy Land in Biblical times, and captured two strong Jewish positions on the Palestine coast beyond Gaza. To capture Beersheba the Egyptians had to cross a belt of territory allotted to (Continued on Page Eight)

Swedish Count Is Named Mediator for Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, May 20 (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte, of Sweden, was chosen tonight as United Nations mediator for Palestine.

Count Bernadotte, vice president of the Swedish Red Cross, was picked by the five great powers after he had accepted a proffer of the assignment.

His selection came after the U. N. Security Council wrangled in two sessions today over whether to use strong measures against warring Arabs and Jews in Palestine or appoint a mediator.

The council adjourned until tomorrow without a decision.

The council received from Trans-Jordan tonight a blunt refusal to answer questions on its role in the Palestine war.

THIS ACTION came several hours after the Soviet Ukraine charged that Britain is fighting Israel through the Arab legion of Trans-Jordan.

Fawzi Al Mulki, foreign minister of Trans-Jordan, messaged that the questions were inspired by the United States; that the U. S. has not recognized Trans-Jordan in more than two years while it recognized Israel in a few hours; the U. N. has rebuffed Trans-Jordan's application for membership; so the government of King Abdullah will not answer questions from the council.

Count Bernadotte, 53, will go to Palestine as United Nations mediator backed by the authority of the 58-nation general assembly.

The assembly approved the past Friday the appointment of a mediator to work to obtain a peaceful adjustment in Palestine.

The Swedish count, nephew of King Gustav, acted as intermediary between Heinrich Himmler and (Continued on Page Eight)

Head of Meal Strike Predicts Truce at Three of Four Plants

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP)—The director of the CIO meat strike tonight predicted that striking workers would return to work at all struck plants except Wilson and company.

Some 100,000 CIO Packing-house workers voted throughout the country today and tonight at mass meetings whether to end their nine-week-old strike—on company terms.

Herbert March, UPWA strike director, said the vote would be close for returning to work at Swift, Cudahy and Armour plants but that the union was urging Wilson workers to vote no. He said the voting was being conducted company by company.

March said the workers were voting. (Continued on Page Eight)

Dollar Chest X-Rays Available Next Week

One-dollar X-rays, a service to check the spread of tuberculosis, will be given to any person during five days next week at the YMCA.

Monday through Friday, the hours will be from 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Adequate covers will be provided for women. Food handlers will receive cards indicating freedom from tuberculosis, if such is proved.

X-rays will be read by Dr. James A. Griffiths, Memorial Hospital, and Dr. Lawrence B. Rentschler, Pottstown Hospital. Results will be sent to the subject's family doctor.

The cost per person has been kept to $1 by joint sponsorship of the project by the Minute Men and the YMCA. The Family Welfare Society and the Montgomery Tuberculosis Society have co-operated.

Mrs. Steele, Wyndcroft Principal, To 'Close Book' of Her Career

By ED ROSENBERG
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The roll-top desk was closed, the room cool and still, the building unnaturally quiet.

Only the principal remained in the halls of the main building of the Wyndcroft school on Rosedale drive.

Mrs. Mabel Day Steele, a dignified, matronly figure with her gray-white hair gathered atop her head, seated herself in a plain chair near the window.

Quietly, sincerely, she spoke of her 22 years at Wyndcroft, of her ideas and educational philosophy, and of a lifetime of teaching which will end in retirement at the close of the school term this month.

When she spoke of her pupils who had studied with her, had grown up in a difficult world successfully, and then remembered her, writing or returning to see their principal once again, she said:

"When you remember things like these, it makes it all worthwhile. My greatest reward is to have these boys and girls come back to me and tell me what they have done."

MRS. MABEL DAY STEELE

TEACHING, MRS. STEELE made it clear, was a rewarding profession for her, in spite of its difficulties. Particularly in a private school, it offered scope for molding individuals who would know how to live.

was a dirt road. Cornfields grew where spacious homes now line the road, and Wyndcroft was only a few, small buildings.

"I told them I'd take the position if a new building would be erected," Mrs. Steele recalled. "I wanted a modern place and it was built the way I wanted it. I helped make the plans and order the supplies, and I have always felt, for that reason, a deep and personal interest in the growth of this school."

"But this place needs three things—faith, enthusiasm and youth. I still have plenty of faith and enthusiasm," she continued in her low-pitched, carefully modulated voice, "but no more youth."

"They begged me to stay another year, but I want my successor to come here the same way I did—when the school is growing. There will be a new building this Summer. I told the board, 'Let him work on it. Let him help with the plans, and order the supplies, and let him say whether he likes this desk—or whether he does not like this equipment.'"

AS THE RETIRING principal saw how clearly the pattern of her own life at Wyndcroft, and the growth of the school, might be repeated under a new head, she went on to discuss the broader cycle of (Continued on Page Eight)

Poppy Bouffoniere To Be in Style on Streets Here Today

Got a poppy on your coat or dress?

You should by tomorrow night, for more than two dozen women, members of the ladies' auxiliaries of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts, will conduct their traditional sale of the blood-red flower today and tomorrow.

Sale of the poppies, made by disabled veterans, will result in additional funds for both hospitalized veterans and those in the Pottstown area who need financial assistance.

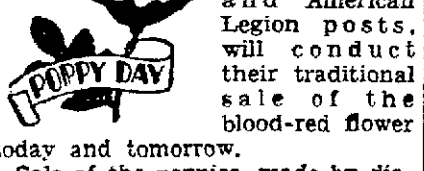

Most of the money will be kept for local use, some will be sent to nearby hospitals, such as the Valley Forge General, Coatesville and Philadelphia Naval hospitals, and the remainder will be sent to the central offices of the veteran groups.

Mrs. Elmer V. Betz, chairman of the poppy sale, George A. Amos, post 47, American Legion, said that he "don't or two" representatives will have 7500 poppies to sell, starting this morning.

They will work in shifts, and expect to blanket the borough with their artificial blooms.

With ten or 12 assistants, Mrs. Emma Campale, representing Pottstown Post 780, VFW, confidently expects to sell 3000 poppies.

If bad weather today or tomorrow keeps sales down, Mrs. Campale said, her campaign will continue next week.

Union Ruling Is Sought On Legality of Upset Vote

The knotty question—Who won the presidency of Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIO)?—will not be answered before the middle of next week.

This assertion was made last night by Carl Young, vice president of the union representing workers at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company's Pottstown plant.

Officers of the international union at the Akron, Ohio, headquarters declined to express any opinion about the results of Wednesday's election when queried yesterday by Fred L. Howard, Norristown, field representative of the International.

The central problem is whether the 236 write-in votes given Young were legal. If they are, Young defeated Robert E. Garber, who polled 179 votes as the only presidential candidate on the ballot. Young declined the nomination at Sunday's union meeting.

ANOTHER ISSUE confronting Local 336 is to whom shall the union appeal for a ruling in the problem, which has been termed without precedent in union history in this area.

Presumably, it would be appealed to some office of the international, Young said. He (Continued on Page Eight)

Four Titlists Reach District Marbles Test

With the district championship playoffs in The Mercury's 1948 National Marbles tournament drawing closer, the names of four more school champions were added to a growing list yesterday.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, May 31, school champions from Pottstown, North Coventry, Boyertown, and Upper Lower and West Pottsgrove will meet at Manatung park to compete for four district championships.

The district champions will vie for the greater Pottstown area championship June 4.

Yesterday, Clarence C. Yocom, director of the school tournament, announced that Eighth Grader Ralph Kappenstein, 13, 24 East Fifth Street, had captured the crown at the Pottstown Junior High school. He won over Paul Hudson, 321 Grant Street, by scores of 4-7, 7-3, 7-2.

AT THE ST. CLAIR school, John Soia, 203 South Franklin Street, won the championship by defeating (Continued on Page Eight)

Help Still Needed For Fresh Air Fund

Eastern Pennsylvania is traditionally great camping country. Its woods and hills and clear streams combine in many a delightful spot, particularly for youngsters.

This Summer, hundreds of Pottstown youngsters will have their trunks packed and their name tags sewn on their clothing, ready for weeks of healthful outdoor fun.

How about the less fortunate youngsters?

They'd like to get away from the hot, humid town too, and you can help them, by sending your dimes or dollars to The Mercury's Fresh Air Fund.

For $14, one boy or girl will be able to spend a week at the Pottstown Community camp, at Earlville, Pa. Already, $742 has been received, but that's not enough for the many underprivileged youngsters here.

It will take care of only 33 boys and girls, and many times that number cannot get away this year without your help.

Give now—help a neighbor's child by sending your donation to The Mercury Fresh Air fund.

Record Oregon Vote Seen Today As Dewey Tests Stassen Strength

PORTLAND, Ore., May 20 (AP)—A record Republican vote is in prospect for tomorrow's primary election on which Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen are staking much of their presidential hopes.

A good 65 or 70 percent of Oregon's record registration of 322,490 GOP voters are expected to ballot, and election interest reached an unprecedented pitch today in the piping hours of the slam-bang primary campaign.

Political prospectors were finding little worthwhile pay dirt in their search for clues to the outcome.

Association's Name Is Changed To Include Suburban Restaurants

The board of directors of the Pottstown Restaurant association officially changed its name to "Pottstown and Suburban Restaurant association" and adopted by-laws and a constitution yesterday afternoon.

The name now includes the word "suburban" to encourage restaurant owners in the entire Pottstown area to join the organization, Mrs. Marian M. Conrad, president, explained.

The association's by-laws and constitution are slightly modified forms of the rules of the restaurant association in Lancaster.

The Lancaster code was given to local members by Lancaster's association president the past Monday night at the association's organization meeting to serve as a model on which to base the Pottstown rules.

Mrs. G. Lynn Allen, secretary, read the by-laws at yesterday's meeting and the five directors made changes during the reading.

At the same time Mrs. Conrad announced that ten new members have been added to the club and three wholesale food suppliers have joined as associate members.

The directors will meet again at the Washington grille Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to set the next date for the association as a whole to meet.

Man Seriously Hurt, Believed Hit by Part From Power Mower

Lewis W. Cook, 29, of Pottstown RD 2, was in serious condition in Memorial hospital early this morning with a skull fracture that apparently was caused by a flying part from a balky motor-driven lawn mower.

After the accident last night, he walked the quarter-mile from his home near Pughtown to his father's home for help. But his father, Wesley Cook, was in Memorial hospital, while the mother and wife were visiting the father.

A brother-of-the-injured man, Harry, of Kenilworth, did not know his mother was at the hospital. He came to pay a visit, found no one there, started to walk away, then saw his brother staggering up to the house.

All that Lewis was able to tell Harry was, "Take me somewhere, so I can get this fixed up."

Harry used his own car to rush his brother to the hospital. There Dr. J. G. Shade discovered a severe fracture of the forehead. An emergency operation repaired the laceration and removed small bits of the bone from the injured area.

Cook was still semi-conscious early this morning.

HOSPITAL AUTHORITIES took pains to keep the father from learning of the accident, since he is scheduled for an operation this morning.

From Cook's wife and from another of Cook's brothers, Fred, who lives in the same section along Route 28, the story of the accident was pieced together.

When his wife left for the hospital early last night, Cook was mowing the grass around (Continued on Page Eight)

Sump Is Filled On Keim Street By Hill School

Promised action by The Hill school to fill in the North Keim street sump materialized early yesterday morning when truckload after truckload of dirt was dumped into the hole.

With a small group of youngsters looking on, the trucks began their dumping operations at the north end of the water hole, slowly pushing the water down to the south end. While the trucks dumped dirt and fill, a worker spread the loads until they were level.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears commended The Hill school and Radcliffe W. Bristol, building superintendent, for the fine co-operation they showed in correcting the situation.

The borough had no legal responsibility there, since the hole was on private property," Sears said. "All we could do was to request co-operation and offer our help. Bristol and the school responded admirably."

The Hill used its own trucks and those of private contractors to haul the fill to the swamp, although the borough had offered the use of its equipment to aid in the work.

AT THE SAME TIME, a similar swamp at the foot of Sussex drive was being pumped out yesterday morning preparatory to being filled.

Residents of the area had complained to the police about the situation during the past week, and after a preliminary investigation by Patrolman Robert H. Houser, Stanley Swinehart, the owner of the land, was contacted.

Swinehart told Houser and Chief of Police James A. Leughead he would co-operate in an effort to have the hole filled.

Yesterday a gasoline-powered pump was sucking the water out of the swamp. It will be filled in when it is empty.

FARM MACHINE MANGLES ARM

Doctors Amputate Fingers After Man's Hand Is Caught in Fodder Chopper

Two fingers were amputated from the right hand of a Spring City RD 1 bachelor farmer last night after a fodder chopper had caught and badly mangled the hand and arm.

Only the stalling of an engine which operated the cutter probably saved Frank Weaver, 42 from losing his entire arm in the savage cogs of the machine.

Weaver, who manages his mother's farm just off Route 83 on Crab Hill, had just begun cutting corn fodder in the barn at 6:30 o'clock when the accident occurred.

As the farmer was feeding the fodder along an intake trough into the clogged wheels, the sleeve of his sweater caught on a cog and dragged his hand inward.

When his arm had penetrated to the elbow, the gasoline engine stalled and the power belt flew off.

Weaver's screams of pain drew members of the family from the house and an unidentified relative extracted the mangled arm.

MEANWHILE, OTHER members of the family called Dr. Joseph G. Ross, of Spring City, who ordered the victim sent to Phoenixville hospital. A Spring City ambulance rushed him there.

The arm was given a nerve block anesthetic and the fully conscious farmer and work began to save as much of the limb (Continued on Page Eight)

Veterans to Conduct Memorial Services at Ellis Woods Sunday

Delegations from all local veterans organizations will gather Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the half-acre tract of Ellis Woods on Schuylkill road below Kenilworth to honor the 17 Revolutionary soldiers buried there.

The ceremony, part of Pottstown's Memorial Day observance, has been carried out every year since Civil War days by the oldest existing veterans group.

Funston Camp 81, United Spanish War Veterans, will present the service, assisted by veterans of World Wars I and II. Harry J. Ginther, service officer of George A. Amos post 47, American Legion, will preside and Melvin B. Krause, adjutant of Funston camp, will deliver the greeting.

IN ADDITION to prayers, singing of hymns, solos, readings and an address, the Spanish War vets will decorate the 17 graves with flags and the camp's auxiliary will place flowers on the tombs.

It will be the first year the new permanent rostrum will be used. Previously the veterans built a temporary stand each year and tore it down after the ceremony.

Recently completed, the new podium was paid for by various veterans' groups and fraternal organizations.

Krause, who has attended the Ellis Woods ceremonies for 43 years, said weather will determine how many will attend.

Spicer Plant to Close Next Week for Inventory

With the exception of one department, the Spicer Manufacturing company plant will close next week for inventory, George J. Parker, manager, announced yesterday.

Parker said the shaft assembly line would work for the first three days of the week and then close.

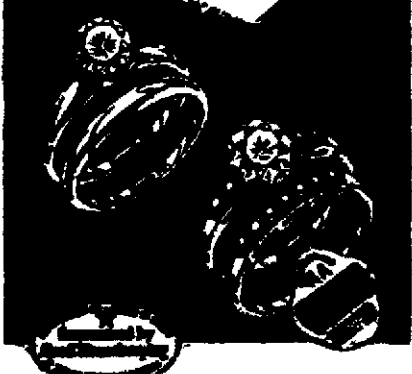

More than half of the workers laid off earlier in the month have returned to work, Parker added, and the remainder will be coming back when the plant reopens June 1.

Student-Officials Portray Roles to Hill By Raids on Gambling Dens in Ohio City

ZANESVILLE, O., May 20 (AP) — It goes on in a thousand cities every year, this letting High school seniors play at running the town for a day, but here the boys played it hard and straight.

They put the pinch on some gambling, added $25 and costs to the city coffers, and confiscated enough punch boards and "rookie jars" to open a casino.

The duly elected and appointed adult city officials picked up the pieces today after a "laboratory experiment" in civics that was a danger.

THE BOYS WERE "Mayor" Aubrey Sibbring, "City Solicitor" Frank Schurtz Jr., and "Police Chief" Jack Harper, all 17-year-old seniors of Lash high school. They were elected by fellow students the past week to take up Mayor William S. Watson's annual invitation to "run the city" yesterday and do the things they read about in civics classes.

These three put on a series of raids, with the aid of one patrolman who never knew what was next. When Police Chief (Real) Clifford Courtney caught up and took away Police Chief (Pro Tem) Harper's gun and badge, they were planning secretly to knock off a house of prostitution.

Meanwhile, "Fire Chief" Charles

Cooper, "City Auditor" Henry Abele, and "Safety Director" John Montgomery tried to keep a campaign promise to let school out early. They set about having the overcrowded Lash building declared a firetrap. That fizzled.

CITY OFFICIALS kept mostly non-committal on the affair today, except Solicitor J. Lincoln Knapp. He noted that two of the youngsters' hand-written search warrants were improperly drawn and the raids conducted with them wouldn't stand up in court.

Earl Freeman, the third person whose cigar store was raided, paid the $25 fine for possession of a punch board. It was a real fine.

City School Superintendent Donald Summers didn't say the affair was good and he didn't say it was bad.

"The spirit of adventure, you know," he said. "When you turn youngsters loose in a job like that, they're likely to do anything. 'I'll never guarantee what will happen, myself."

"THE PURPOSE of the thing is, of course, to identify the students with local government. It's a laboratory experience."

Summers said he didn't know if the mayor would ask them back next year. The mayor said he certainly would.

What was toughest to explain was that the boys seemed to know just where to go.

"Most boys," said Summers, "seem to know what is going on around them and where to go to find anything."

Civil Service Commission Plans Meeting Tonight

Members of the Pottstown Civil Service commission will meet in borough hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Herbert S. Myers, chairman, said that "some recommendations" might be on the agenda. He explained that he was unable last night to say what they would be.

Tax Free-Riders
WITH tax rates rising and the borough seeking new mines of revenue, historic examples of tax-exemption in Pottstown should be re-examined.

This borough, together with all other like-minded municipalities in the State, should ask the Legislature for a reconsideration of the exemption laws. For a century ago a generous Legislature helped several educational institutions get started by granting them charters providing perpetual exemption. A century ago, that privilege was commendable.

Nobody then anticipated, however, the growth of the institutions benefited by this dispensation. Nobody foresaw that the privilege would be expanded beyond the property of educational and charitable organizations used solely for those purposes.

Today tax-exemption has developed into a burden on the borough of Pottstown.
The costs of street improvement and maintenance, water and sewage facilities,
and fire and police protection are disproportionately carried by the home owners.

Pottstown is not alone among Pennsylvania communities carrying this extra burden.
Some of the most prominent Eastern universities even are in the department store business. Many tax-exempt institutions hold real estate for the income it brings. Not all of this revenue property is located on the campus.

This maladjustment is straining the borough's financial structure. The century-old generosity of a State Legislature is tying a millstone around the neck of other communities. Pottstown should take the lead in the State to suggest that the Legislature end
such inequities as now exist.

Merely Good Business;
Limit to Economizing

Letters must not be more than 250 words long, of current topics and must not involve personalities. Writers must sign their names and give street address
as evidence of good faith but these will be withheld from publication on request.
It is a criminal offense to sign another person's name. Poetic, and communications advocating the election of political candidates are not acceptable.

No Speculation Involved

To the Editor: Mr. Reed's arguments against the purchase of the old opera house are as full of holes as a sieve.
If I have a chance to buy a piece of real estate at a bargain, with plans of building a home thereon at some future date, am I going into the real estate if I grab the opportunity?
Certainly, I'm not.
Neither is the borough if it buys the opera house property.
There's no question about a future
need for the land at its advantageous location. It's merely a question of whether the need for a community center, highway department garage, or more borough offices gets preference.

Mr. Reed suggests that the borough's tract of land on which the borough hall
now stands is large enough on which to build a community center and additional administrative offices. That's ludicrous in the extreme, as anyone acquainted with the property knows.

I'm in favor of the borough purchasing the opera house property when it has a chance. And I think it should be used for the construction of a community center. Its location is ideal for this purpose.

WASHINGTON
'Ike' Won't Break Law
On Memoirs Tax Plan

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 20 — Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower will violate no law if he carries out his reported plan of paying a 25 percent capital gains tax instead of a 75 percent income tax on the $500,000 which he expects to receive for his biography and war memoirs. It is a perfectly legal transaction, provided his agents and lawyers do not make the same mistakes committed by such eminent rivals as Irving Berlin, Rafael Sa-battini and Sax Rohmer.

General Eisenhower's savings under the smaller payment, however, will enable him to hire
the nation's top tax
advisors at Washington. Uncle Sam's share of the $500,000
would be $375,000 under a straight income tax levy, whereas it will amount to only $125,000 on the capital gains basis.

Incidentally, neither the military author nor his agent has approached the Internal Revenue bureau on the matter,
but it is generally understood that the new president of Columbia university or his publisher will arrange the transaction
so that he will pay the lesser amount.

In several rulings against such an attempted reduction, the U. S. Tax court has held that it is entirely legal if it is wrapped up in the right kind of package.

SALE: The requisite for taking advantage of this loophole in the law — a loophole which Congress is making wider
year by year under the pressure of powerful voting groups — is that General Eisenhower must make a "perfect and outright
sale" of his literary property to the publisher, reserving no rights to himself. It is doubtful if he can enjoy a free gift of the six or twelve free copies which a publishing house usually gives to an author.

The seemingly unfair feature of the deal is that only an Eisenhower or a man of similar renown could get away with it. No publisher would think of paying out $500,000, for instance, to an unknown writer because he would have no assurance of selling enough copies to make a profit on his investment. But the book makers apparently suffer no qualms on that score with respect to the "Eisenhower Story."

With James A. Farley's book still among the best sellers two months after publication, there is every reason to believe that our European commander's revelations, like Churchill's and Jim's,
will wow the customers.

PRECEDENT: The most famous precedent for the Eisenhower arrangement
involved Rafael Sabattini, the author of
such thrilling works as "The Nostrum,"
"Blind as a Bat" and "Scaramoche." In 1935 his publisher, Houghton-Mifflin
company, tried to pay taxes on the capital
gains basis instead of the higher amount
for "Scaramoche."

But the U. S. Tax court held that Sabattini had not conformed with requirements because he had reserved to himself the rights to foreign translations, to
motion picture and stage reproduction.

Thus he had not arranged for a "perfect and outright sale" in which he turned over the book and its collateral
values to the publisher. Sax Rohmer made
the same blunder in disposing of his
Fu Manchu stories to Liberty magazine.

DECISION: The usually canny Irving
Berlin also outsmarted himself when he agreed to write songs for "Top Hat," the motion picture starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Besides forcing the composer to pay the higher rate of taxes on
his guaranteed fee of $75,000, the court's decision revealed that the nation's best
known song writer is a self-publishing
writing and rewriting old melodies again
and again.

Mr. Berlin did not make the "perfect and outright sale" because several
of his songs for "Top Hat" had been
written for but not used in earlier
plays and movies or were revisions of
tunes he had composed as long ago as
World War I, when he knocked out
"Xip, Yip Yaphank." Other ballads
were rejected for "Top Hat" and then
used in a subsequent movie entitled
"Follow the Fleet."

In other words, Mr. Berlin wanted
to sell his music and keep it, too, and
amusing paragraph from the studio jurists'
opinion is not a single member can keep
on the key — shows.

ACCOMPLISHED: "In the picture,
Top Hat, were the following songs: Top
Hat, White Tie and Tails; Check to Check; I'm Fancy Free; Isn't This a
Lovely Day? The Piccolino.

"Top Hat, White Tie and Tails had
been written prior to 1934 for a work,
"More Cheers" which was not produced.
Check to Check was rewritten in the picture, the lyric being from a previous
song by that name and the melody from
a part of a song entitled Moon over Napoli. The melody from the Piccolino
had been written for and used in the
First Music Box Review in 1922. And I'm
Fancy Free and Isn't This a Lovely Day
were completely written for "Top Hat."

Thus, in blocking the Sabattini,
Rohmer and Berlin tries, the nation's highest authorities on payment or non-
payment of taxes showed how it can be accomplished.

BREACH: Congressional widening of
the capital gains breach in the tax laws
may provoke a movement to close this means of escape. If the provision for payment of the smaller amount continues
to be extended by the legislators, it will mean that a heavier tax burden will have
to be placed on individuals.

In the 1942 tax law Congress reduced the capital gains rate to 25
percent, also making it applicable to timber growers. Although the new provision would have benefited F.D.R.,
who grew Christmas trees at Hyde Park, he vetoed the measure, pro-
voking Democratic Senate Leader
Alben W. Barkley to offer his resignation.
The measure was passed over the
presidential veto.

In proposed tax amendments now
before the House, the capital gains benefit
is made applicable to beef cattle in response to the demands of those interests.
Naturally, other groups are preparing to
demand the same treatment for property
held six months or longer, with the result that John Q. Citizen will eventually have
to make up these accumulating deficits.

'SUMMER COMPLAINT'

In Retrospect

May 21, 1938

PARK TO OPEN — Ringing Rocks
park will open on June 4. J. Wallace Spier is manager of the trolley line with William S. Lord the excursion manager.

KILLS BIG SNAKE — A seven-foot
black snake was killed by Ivan Moser
while he was engaged in removing stumps
from a field in Upper Pottsgrove township.

CATTLE SALE — Twenty-two head of cattle were sold at a public sale at the Mansion House, M. E. Gilbert proprietor.
They brought an average of $30 a head.
Billy Rader was auctioneer and Billy Brooke was clerk.

SOME PRICES — In market, potatoes
were sold at $1.10 per bushel; butter, 18
cents and 20 cents per pound, while bread
was six leaves for 25 cents.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

LONG MAY IT WAVE — Pottstown's
flag finally going to have a Flag Day celebration. That famous holiday, long ignored locally except by the Elks lodge,
will be observed at the new Seventh Ward playground. There sponsors plan to honor Old Glory with a band concert, drill by the national champion Junior High school safety team, and other spinetingling events. Enlisters in the US Army were Anthony F. Genery, Pottstown RD 3, and Walter F. Hohl, Pottstown
RD 1. They were signed by M/Sgt. E. J.
Vensel at the US Army and Air Force recruiting station in the Pottstown Post Office. Starting statistic: 720 American homes will catch fire today and 21,600
of them will burn this month!

CHARGE — This small-town was agast at the charge of a cent for use of a cloth napkin in a big city restaurant. That is, until the cashier explained before the war napkins cost 63 cents a hundred. Now they're $1.47.
Run through the laundry 100 times,
the napkin just fades away. So they figure it's worth a cent to use one.
Of course, if you want a paper napkin, they're still around. Don't forget the playground equipment drive Saturday. Pottstown's tots can make good use of the balls, bats, etc., gathering dust in your attic.

Forsaking Educational Progress

To the Editor: It's a sad situation
when our school board in Upper Pott-sgrove township decides to pinch pennies
in providing the educational needs for our children.

It reminds me of the man who said,
"I didn't have a college education, so I see no reason why my children should have one." Our school directors can proudly say they've kept taxes down. But what can they say they've given us?

The board's action will stand as a blight upon the township in an area
which is expanding its educational advantages. Economies in government can reach a point where they cease to be such. This is a perfect case in point.

I hope the board will reconsider its action. It's certain that it will draw little praise for what it has done.

HOLLYWOOD, May 20 — Any min-

that David Selznick and Sir Alex-

global motion picture venture.

They'll collaborate on a series
of films to be made in England which
will employ the best talents of Hollywood and London. Among
the first films they'll make will be Joseph Conrad's "Outcast of the

Mysore State numbers among its

night not long ago, a herd of 25 came walking through the airport fence at Mysore City, trampled turf, ripped up
trees and shrubs and playfully bowled
over several power-line poles. Fortunately, all planes on the field were out
of their way.

After You, Mr. Motorist!

THE fact that so many traffic accidents happen at Pottstown intersections brings to light an unattractive, though fairly prevalent human characteristic—the urge to push
in ahead of the other fellow.

Most of us have laughed at those classic
comedians, Gaston and Alphonse, who stand eternally bowing and scraping before a doorway, murmuring:

"After you, Alphonse!"
"No, after you, dear Gaston!"

Nothing like that happens on Pottstown streets, but it might be a healthy sign if it did. Sounds ridiculous, perhaps, but think about it a moment and it makes sense.

Compare the daily scene at Pottstown
intersections when two motorists try to beat
each other to the crossing or occupy a space where there is room for only one. When they fail, nobody laughs. The result is death, injury, property destruction and tragedy.

Safety authorities emphasize that discourtesy and disregard for the rights of others are leading causes of highway accidents.

That is not a very admirable state of affairs; the best cure for it is law enforcement.

Explicit rules for precedence and right
of way have been formulated by traffic specialists. It remains for drivers to learn them thoroughly and observe them meticulously. Those who won't, must be made to.

It is worth nothing, too, that the first commandment of these safety rules is based on simple courtesy; when in doubt,
yield the right of way.

Driving conditions are becoming increasingly hectic every year in Pottstown. That makes courtesy on the street even more of a
"must" than it is at home—literally a matter
of life and death.

No motorist is even slightly ridiculous
when he says: "After you, Mr. Motorist. I want to live!"

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

TODAY, I'll continue the psychoanalysis of the Church.

Psychology needs to go to church and supplement the past extreme emphasis on old Testament history, theology and Greek or Hebrew.

Christ made very few prayers during His earthly ministry. He went about DOING GOOD, the Bible tells us.

He healed the sick and fed the hungry.
He rendered psychiatric advice and treatment, even handling the insane patients,
as on His visit to the Gadarenes.

He was a past master of the psychology of the public platform. He employed analogies and simple language
which his audience could well understand.
As a criminal lawyer, He would have been preeminent, for He could confound
his critics and tie them up in forensic knits.

Nor did He rely on spooky auditoriums
with dim lights and ritualistic bric-a-brac. He thrilled them out in the open sunlight.

He started the first church picnic
when He fed an audience of 5000 men (not to mention the women and children)
with the loaves and fishes.

Incidentally, how many preachers today could draw an outdoor crowd of 5000, and thrill them with a sermon in the bright sunlight?

He must have had a powerful voice,
too, for 5000 men to hear Him easily.

TOO MANY artists and commentators have depicted Christ as a sissy. He was a he-man, who had earned His livelihood
as a carpenter.

Although He gave us the Golden Rule and urged us to take a double personal insult, He tolerated no violation of fundamental Christian principles and eternal truths.

When He found the Jewish Temple
desecrated by the money changers and merchants, He drove them out, not with honeyed words or tactful oratory, but
by physical strength and a whip.

He "overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them
that sold doves."

An inventory of modern society will show that the church is the primary sponsor of education and sobriety, peace
and brotherly love.

Since we are born without a conscience, the church is one of the few educational sources for building con-sciences in our children.

But millions of American children are growing up, like Topsy, with little sense of right and wrong. Why?

Because we aren't training them in moral lessons. The public schools do not offer such lessons.

The schools teach the scientific facts,
but the Sunday schools place moral com-
passes in our children so they will intelligently steer their lives by employing those facts for wholesome purposes instead of
for strife and selfishness.

Speaking as psychologist and university teacher, I tell you, readers, that the Sunday school is the real hope of America. Get behind it, therefore, and see that more than 52.5% of our children receive some moral instruction.

In America this very minute there are 68,900,000 pagans—a population equal to that of pre-war Germany.

Sand your children, or better yet, take them to Sunday school. Urge them to obey those essential rules of unselfishness and brotherly love which alone guarantee the liberty we enjoy under the Republic.

PRECEDENT: The most famous pre-
cedent for the Eisenhower arrangement
involved Rafael Sabattini, the author of
such thrilling works as "The Nostrum,"
"Blind as a Bat" and "Scaramoche." In 1935 his publisher, Houghton-Mifflin
company, tried to pay taxes on the capital
gains basis instead of the higher amount
for "Scaramoche."

But the U. S. Tax court held that Sabattini had not conformed with requirements because he had reserved to himself the rights to foreign translations, to
motion picture and stage reproduction.

Thus he had not arranged for a "perfect and outright sale" in which he
turned over the book and its collateral
values to the publisher. Sax Rohmer made
the same blunder in disposing of his
Fu Manchu stories to Liberty magazine.

DECISION: The usually canny Irving
Berlin also outsmarted himself when he
agreed to write songs for "Top Hat," the
motion picture starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Besides forcing the composer to pay the higher rate of taxes on
his guaranteed fee of $75,000, the court's
decision revealed that the nation's best
known song writer is a self-publishing
writing and rewriting old melodies again
and again.

Mr. Berlin did not make the "perfect and outright sale" because several
of his songs for "Top Hat" had been
written for but not used in earlier
plays and movies or were revisions of
tunes he had composed as long ago as
World War I, when he knocked out
"Xip, Yip Yaphank." Other ballads
were rejected for "Top Hat" and then
used in a subsequent movie entitled
"Follow the Fleet."

In other words, Mr. Berlin wanted
to sell his music and keep it, too, and
amusing paragraph from the studio jurists'
opinion is not a single member can keep
on the key — shows.

ACCOMPLISHED: "In the picture,
Top Hat, were the following songs: Top
Hat, White Tie and Tails; Check to Check; I'm Fancy Free; Isn't This a
Lovely Day? The Piccolino.

"Top Hat, White Tie and Tails had
been written prior to 1934 for a work,
"More Cheers" which was not produced.
Check to Check was rewritten in the
picture, the lyric being from a previous
song by that name and the melody from
a part of a song entitled Moon over
Napoli. The melody from the Piccolino
had been written for and used in the
First Music Box Review in 1922. And I'm
Fancy Free and Isn't This a Lovely Day
were completely written for "Top Hat."

Thus, in blocking the Sabattini,
Rohmer and Berlin tries, the nation's
highest authorities on payment or non-
payment of taxes showed how it can be accomplished.

BREACH: Congressional widening of
the capital gains breach in the tax laws
may provoke a movement to close this
means of escape. If the provision for payment of the smaller amount continues
to be extended by the legislators, it will
mean that a heavier tax burden will have
to be placed on individuals.

In the 1942 tax law Congress reduced the capital gains rate to 25
percent, also making it applicable to timber growers. Although the new
provision would have benefited F.D.R.,
who grew Christmas trees at Hyde
Park, he vetoed the measure, pro-
voking Democratic Senate Leader
Alben W. Barkley to offer his resignation.
The measure was passed over the
presidential veto.

In proposed tax amendments now
before the House, the capital gains benefit
is made applicable to beef cattle in response to the demands of those interests.
Naturally, other groups are preparing to
demand the same treatment for property
held six months or longer, with the result
that John Q. Citizen will eventually have
to make up these accumulating deficits.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWNN

HOLLYWOOD, May 20 — Any minute there'll be an announcement
that David Selznick and Sir Alexander Korda are joining up for a global motion picture venture.

They'll collaborate on a series
of films to be made in England which
will employ the best talents of Hollywood and London. Among
the first films they'll make will be Joseph Conrad's "Outcast of the Islands," Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities" and Jules Verne's "Around the World in Eighty Days." Two will be made in technicolor, and we assume that all of Selznick's roster of stars including Jennifer Jones, Joe Cotten, Gregory Peck, Shirley Temple, et al
will be available to Korda when needed. ... Parade, the news magazine with six million weekly circulation, is doing six issues on Hollywood — based on information
"The Hollywood Reporter" dug up and mailed out in its booklet,
"Facts About Hollywood, U. S. A." Parade is taking the booklet, elaborating on it with illustrations, and after printing it will put the whole thing in book form.

lovely dancer who looks like Dolores del Rio) will get the femme lead in the Abbott and Costello

this week. The reason that
"Oh, Mistress Mine" co-starring Lynne Fontanne and Alfred Lunt is closing, despite its enormous success on tour, is because of Lunt's serious kidney ailment. ... Frances Gifford has booked reservations on the Queen Lizzy for June 17. Destination, England. ... Frankie Sinatra flies East this week-end
for that benefit opening of
"Miracle of the Bells" in Chicago
— then rushes back to start rehearsals on "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" with Gene Kelly.

MARGIE HART, the ex-strip teaser turned actress, lives in Hollywood
now and loves it so much she wired a not-too-bright pal of hers to "Come West!" — and signed the telegram, Horace Greely. She got a prompt reply which said, "Received wire from Horace Greely. Who is he?" Margie didn't bother to answer and the next day she got a special delivery
letter from the same gal which said,
"Now I know who Horace Greely is. My husband told me when he got home. Mother thought Greely worked for Coronet magazine because she'd seen his name in it. And my sister said he was a friend of your husbands. I myself thought he was Carole Landis' husband." (4)

phants tamed to do forest work. One night not long ago, a herd of 25 came
walking through the airport fence at Mysore City, trampled turf, ripped up
trees and shrubs and playfully bowled
over several power-line poles. Fortunately, all planes on the field were out
of their way.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WE can, of course, never have too many remedies but, when it comes to urinary tract infections, it would almost seem as if in these the doctor has too many to choose from.

This duplication of medicines, however, is more apparent than real because it is matched by the number of different kinds of germs which can cause trouble
in this area, some of which will be overcome by one drug but be impervious to others.

Perhaps the oldest drug used in the treatment of infections of the urinary tract is known by the long name of hexamethylenamine which is useful in controlling infections due to certain types of bacilli. This substance is active against germs only when the urine is acid. Then, too, its usefulness is further limited by the fact that in certain cases it may cause bladder irritation when employed over the period of time — 10 to 14 days—
needed to get rid of the infection.

Another time-tested remedy is called mandelic acid. It, also, is effective against infection with certain types of bacilli, but it, too, must be used when the urine is acid. Unfortunately, the mandelic acid often causes sickness at the stomach and vomiting when it is used
over a period of days or weeks.

The sulfonamide drugs have proved quite satisfactory as urinary antiseptics.
They also work well against many bacteria called cocci as well as some bacilli. The sulfonamide drug known as sulfacetamide appears particularly valuable, not only because it is a good germ-killer, but also because it is not particularly toxic. It has the further advantage of being rapidly eliminated through the kidneys, and thus gets into the urine in high concentration.

Penicillin is quite effective against urinary infections due to Staphylococci and Streptococci. Sometimes the urinary tract infection is due to a combination of germs; that is, there are both cocci and bacilli. In such instances, the penicillin may not be effective because bacilli produce a substance which destroys the action of the penicillin. In these cases, it is suggested that both penicillin and sulfacetamide be used. The drugs are continued for a period of seven to nine days. It is rarely necessary to carry out the treatment for a longer period of time.

When urinary tract infections occur
with such symptoms as pain, burning on emptying of the bladder, and fever, a careful study must be made to determine the type of germs causing the difficulty;
then the doctor will decide just what treatment may be employed most effectively.

Where Our Steel Goes

BUILDERS, manufacturers, prospective car-buyers and others have long been echoing one another's weary refrain: "Where is all of our steel going?" "Why can't we get our steel for automobiles?"

The question is natural enough. Our steel production was at a peacetime high last year
— 35 million ingot tons. That record was exceeded only by peak war years.

The building of ships, which took 12 million tons in 1944, takes less than half a million tons today. Twice as much steel goes into autos and planes today as in 1944. Will over five million tons went into containers last year, a 30 percent increase over 1944. "Tin" cans, low grade steel with a thin plating of tin, accounted for much of this.

New armaments will take a big bite and steel will continue to be short.

Scouts to Collect Paper Tomorrow

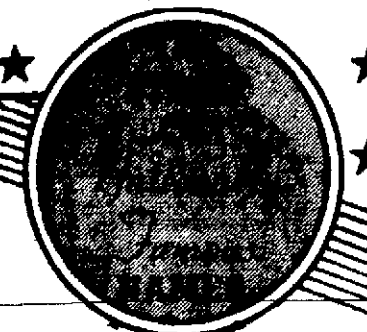

Eight boys of Boy Scout Troop 3, of First Presbyterian church, will canvass Pottstown all day tomorrow for scrap paper which they will sell to provide camping funds.

Three teams, two on trucks, the other in a car, will start the drive at 10:30 a. m. and finish when Pottstown has been covered.

The funds, after the paper has been sold to a local junk dealer, will help send seven of the boys to Camp Delmont from July 4 to 11. The same seven will also be at the camp over the Memorial Day weekend.

MRS. STEELE — (Continued From Page One)

educational ideas. Mrs. Steele came to Pottstown after she had spent three years at the Parke school, in Baltimore, Md., "the first progressive school," as she described it.

She began teaching and directing boys and girls at Wyndcroft with her background of new ideas, new methods, but retained what she considered the best of the conservative methods.

The principal praised the Pottstown public school system's adoption of the levels system, and said, "I've taught on the levels system here for 22 years."

"Here, boys and girls have gone ahead just as fast as they could, and our standards have enabled them to go directly to the preparatory school of their choice."

"I have taught a mathematics class of six youngsters, and every one of them was at a different level of learning," she continued. "You know, sometimes the brightest boy or girl is held back more than the slowest one, in our public school systems."

ALTHOUGH IN THE 1920s and 1930s, stress was laid by progressive educators on increasingly greater freedom of activity for pupils, Mrs. Steele always believed firmly in knowing when to limit them.

"The pendulum is coming back the other way now," she said with a smile. "It always goes too far, but then it returns."

Of her retirement plans, Mrs. Steele had little to say. She expects to spend the summer and early autumn with her family, at a little place on the Chesapeake Bay, and then—

"I must do some work of some sort."

Her vacations, since coming to Pottstown, have been limited to a few weeks yearly. During most of them, except for the past few years, Mrs. Steele studied at universities, usually in cities where members of her family were living.

"I especially enjoyed my post-graduate work at Johns Hopkins," she recalled, as she spoke of her school administration and history studies in the Baltimore universities.

MRS. STEELE, born in Albany, N. Y., went to the Baldwin school, the preparatory school for Bryn Mawr college, but upon graduating, studied at Vassar college.

She first taught privately in Washington, D. C., tutoring two girls, and finding the work congenial, continued her career as an instructor.

"Moulding people for the worthwhile things in life is really a great satisfaction," she said.

Her decision to retire from Wyndcroft was not easy to make. But for the continued good of the institution, she decided that a younger person was needed.

"When you teach, and see class after class of young people, eager and willing, go through your school there is really no time, no feeling of age," Mrs. Steele mused, thinking of her days of retirement ahead, when there would be plenty of time to think of the many years behind, and of those ahead.

SHE ENDED HER talk with a tone of determined hope and optimism.

"I should like you to say this," Mrs. Steele said. "I have great faith in this school—I feel that it will continue to grow, and that Pottstown can be proud of it."

Excusing herself, she rose to talk with a visitor. Retirement or no, there were still parents planning to send their children to the private school, a few more plans to make, odds and ends to be gathered together.

OREGON PRIMARY — (Continued From Page One)

were down in a play for stakes considered to be far more important than Oregon's relatively few conventions.

An Oregon win would represent an important success for the big, balding Minnesotan.

For the man with the mustache, a win would cast him in something of the role of giant-killer and the one Republican contender so far able to stop the barnstorming Minnesotan in a clear test of strength.

Oregon Democrats, meanwhile, enjoyed the Republican spectacle from the sidelines.

President Truman was unopposed for the Democratic preference, and his designation was just a formality.

MAN INJURED — (Continued From Page One)

his yard with a hand-pushed lawn mower. Apparently he decided to abandon this mower for one to which he had attached a small motor the past year.

Then he discovered the motor wouldn't start. He took the tractor from the barn, hooked it to the front of the mower, and started the tractor. The lawn mower rolled along behind. Then the pulley running from the motor to the mower's wheels snapped loose, sending several parts flying.

One of these parts, later found on the grass around the mower and tractor, hit Cook on the head, his family reasoned. He turned off the tractor motor, then began his search for help.

When the hospital notified borough hall, Patrolman Paul Galloway went there to interview Cook's wife and brother, Harry. Galloway then notified Devon State police.

UNION ELECTION — (Continued From Page One)

was unable to say which office.

Young said the executive board would meet early next week, probably after the return of Garber and Stephen Dujack, board members, from the industry-wide negotiation sessions in Cleveland, Ohio. At the meeting, the board will decide from whom it will seek a ruling.

YESTERDAY, Firestone workers, most of whom appeared startled by the election results, were asking: How did it happen?

Young expressed the opinion it had been a spontaneous movement that got underway only a short time before the day-long election began.

"It was probably talked up by somebody," he said, "and then spread from here to there." The "somebody," Young asserted emphatically, "certainly wasn't me. I did nothing whatever to start it or help it along."

Young viewed the light vote—430 ballots from 3000 workers—as further evidence that the "draft Young movement" had begun on short notice. Otherwise, the pro-Garber faction would have discovered the movement and the voting would have been heavier.

Garber had played a leading role in the recent walkout at the Government-owned plant. Young, although a union officer, remained in the background throughout the five days the strike was in effect.

ing on these proposals:

ACCEPTANCE OF A nine-cent hourly wage hike, retroactive to the March 16 strike calling.

Retention of all seniority rights.

Arbitration with the company on possible discharge of those workers accused of unlawful acts.

March said that Wilson and company's proposal "would mean destruction of our union."

He said that Wilson and company proposed:

"1. That the company can re-hire who they want to regardless of seniority rights.

"2. That the company reserves the right to re-employ all strikers. This means everyone must be examined by the company doctors, thus getting rid of most of our older brothers and sisters."

ARABS CLAIM — (Continued From Page One)

the Jewish state by the U. N. partition scheme.

Jewish military headquarters in Tel Aviv announced that Jewish troops carried out a successful raid across the upper Jordan and blew up a Syrian army supply camp on the Syrian side of the frontier.

Both Jews and Arabs claimed successes in the fighting immediately south of the Sea of Galilee near the juncture of the borders of Palestine, Syria and Trans-Jordan.

In that region the Jewish air force made its first announced strike since the termination of the British mandate early Saturday.

Jewish planes bombed Arab positions in Samakh, at the southern end of the Sea of Galilee, and returned safely to their bases, a Tel Aviv announcement said. Earlier a Jewish informant in Haifa said counterattacking Jewish ground forces stabbed into Arab positions and partly reoccupied Samakh. The Syrian army had moved into the town Tuesday.

Tel Aviv itself was subjected to four air raids during the day. In the last one the attacking planes zoomed down to within a few hundred feet of the housetops.

AUSTRIAN TREATY — (Continued From Page One)

among the four powers. The talks have been in progress nearly two years in Moscow, Vienna, Paris, New York and London.

When the talks last were suspended, Reber said the United States would insist on two basic principles in any Austrian peace settlement:

1. That Austria's frontiers remain as they were before Adolf Hitler's Anschluss in 1938.

2. That Austria pay no reparations.

Reber said at that time that the United States would await "new proposals" on a possible settlement.

American diplomatic officials said this depended upon action by the Soviet Union.

The children, aged 4 to 14, will come from South Pottstown and Temple, as well as Cedarville.

The school's theme will be "Learn of Me," and will include handicraft, graphic depictions of Bible stories plus memorization work.

JUNE 13 THE COURSE will be climaxed by a Demonstration day service at 9:30 o'clock in the Cedarville church, replacing the usual morning service. At this time, pupils will display exhibits of material learned.

A picnic will be held June 12 on the church lawn, when perfect-attendance pupils will be presented with awards.

The Rev. and Mrs. Adams will be principals of the school. Department superintendents will be Mrs. Wilmer Hahn, intermediate; Mrs. Warren Gordon, junior; Mrs. William Reitenbaugh, primary, and Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Edgar Hughes, beginners.

Teachers will be Marilyn Berriker, Mrs. Paul Ballade, Mrs. Frank Holt, Mrs. Russell Rothrock, Mrs. Banks Frye, Mrs. Arthur Beckley, Mrs. George Shamer, Mrs. Daniel Jones, Mrs. Lowell Kratz, Mrs. James Marquette, Gene Hohl and Leland Beckley.

Rev. Floyd Given Master's Degree

The pastor of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church can now write his name — Donald T. Floyd, A. B., B. D., S. T. M.

The last three letters, standing for master of sacred theology, were tacked on officially yesterday afternoon when two years of study and thesis writing were capped by presentation of the degree at the Lutheran Theological seminary, Mt. Airy.

The Rev. Floyd has been attending all-day classes once a week for the past two years at the seminary and has written a thesis, "Preaching Values in the Book of Amos," in addition to his pastoral duties.

He was one of 18 to receive similar degrees at the seminary's regular commencement exercises.

Prior to his master's work, the pastor received his bachelor of arts degree at Albright college, Reading, in 1943 after four years of study and his bachelor of divinity from Eastern Baptist seminary, Overbrook, after three more years of work.

U. S. Support of Turkey Urged in Rotary Talk
Charles Wiley, 944 Queen street, who spent ten years in the Middle East, told the Pottstown Rotary club last night that there seemed no chance of immediate war with Russia, but urged U. S. support of Turkey as a bulwark against Communism.
A former manager of an American oil company's Middle East office, Wiley asserted that Turkey has been under heavy pressure from the Soviet for the past two years, and badly needs continued support from America, which so far has sent $200,000,000.
The speaker was introduced by George Harberger to the 65 members present. The meeting, held in the Elks home, was in charge of Karl Schumacher, president.

Farm Owners Take Financial Setback Despite $5350 Award by County Jury

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, May 20 — The owners of a 29-acre farm at Zieglerville came out on the short end of a verdict in Civil court today despite the fact they were declared the winners.
A jury of nine women and three men, after a two-day trial before Judge Dannehower, awarded $5350 to Jacob B. Wise, William Corrigan and Mary Corrigan. The verdict was against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
The case came into court because the owners of the property were dissatisfied with $6000 which a jury of view awarded the past summer for damage allegedly caused to the farm by the rerouting and improvement of Gravel pike.

THE STATE CONTENDED that the amount was too great, while the owners said it was too little.
After the verdict today, Judge Dannehower informed the jury that Wise and the Corrigan bought the place in 1936 for "less than $3000."
The owners contended that as a result of the rerouting, their house and barn are on one side of the road, with their fields on the other. This is an inconvenience, they claimed.
The amount of ground affected is about one acre, it was declared

"Be a little man," advised the court. "Have your tooth filled."

Staisey flunked the first test the past August, but at the second examination in March, when he dictated his answers to a stenographer he won out. He was blinded by a tumor when nine.

HUNTINGDON, May 20 (AP)—Only one of the five prisoners who sawed their way out of the Huntingdon county jail Tuesday night was still at large today following the recapture of Joseph Contrillo, 22.

Contrillo was taken into custody again at a home near Heston. State police identified it as the place of a relative of one of the men Contrillo had accompanied on a previous break from the jail May 3.

Still at large was Clarence N. Knable, 41, of Heston, who was awaiting trial on a surety of peace charge at the time of the escape. The other three who had fled the jail through a second floor wash-room window were retaken the following day.

COAL OPERATORS URGE LEWIS TO RESUME TALKS

Issue of Admitting Southern Group Still Keeps Parties Apart

WASHINGTON, May 20 (P)—Soft coal operators urged tonight that wage contract talks be re-opened, but they and John L. Lewis still appeared firmly split on the issue of admitting a southern group of operators.

The negotiations broke up at their outset on this issue yesterday. Lewis opposed letting the Southern Coal Producers association in, saying that in the past that group had attempted to veto contract agreements.

Tonight, all the operator groups wrote Lewis:

"The position taken by the mine workers to exclude from the conference the Southern Coal Producers association, which represents a large part of the tonnage of the industry, was a mistake and should not have been insisted upon to the point of breaking up the conference."

AS FOR THE veto point, the letter said "No single group on the operators' side has veto power." It said there is no unit rule on matters of policy.

Lewis had said that the operators had always used the unit rules by which one negotiator could block a contract settlement.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the southern association, said that tonight's letter merely expressed management solidarity.

Navy and Air Force Report Secret Tests On Heavy Planes

WASHINGTON, May 20 (P)—Two striking advances in long-range air power were notched up today by U. S. fighting arms as Russo-American "peace exchanges" locked on dead center.

The Navy disclosed that two of its P2V Neptunes—the plane that holds the 11,235-mile world's distance record—have been launched successfully from a 45,000-ton carrier.

The Air Force reported that a huge six-engine B36 bomber had made what is probably the longest flight in history with a payload. It shuttled 8000 miles between Texas and California, carrying a "sizeable, useful load of dummy bombs" which were dropped about midway of the flight.

The new strides in American warplane operations were announced just as some U. S. diplomats appeared about ready to write off recent Soviet peace feelers as so much humbug. The implications of today's announcements certainly were not lost on Russia's air marshals or the Kremlin's strategists.

The Navy's Neptune, a swift two-engine patrol bomber, normally is land-based. But a Navy official who declined to permit the use of his name disclosed that it took off, with the assistance of jets, from the flight deck of the U. S. S. Coral Sea off the Virginia capes the past month, and flew to a landing on shore.

Two Southerners to Lead Democratic Convention

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (P)—Two borderline Southerners were chosen today to direct the Democratic national convention.

But Senator J. Howard McGrath, the party's national chairman, insisted the selections were not designed to appease Dixie Democrats revolting against President Truman's civil rights program.

The 16-member executive committee of the Democratic National committee chose Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky as keynote or temporary chairman and representative Sam Rayburn of Texas for the permanent chairmanship.

A short time later, Barkley said in Washington "I appreciate the honor, which comes to me wholly unexpected. I'll do the best job I can."

Rayburn said he considers it "a high honor, and I shall accept the post."

McGrath termed Barkley and Rayburn "very liberal men who supported in every way the program of Presidents Roosevelt and

House Committee Delays Draft Plans

WASHINGTON, May 20 (P)—Rules committee chairman Leo E. Allen (R-III) said today the House will not consider the draft bill until after June 1.

This new timetable, disclosed to reporters after a closed meeting of the rules committee, is about a week later than the one set several days ago by Speaker Martin (R-Mass).

Martin said the bill would reach the House floor some time next week. Allen's announcement raised the strong possibility of a session-end jam, because Martin has said the House still is aiming at a June 18 adjournment to enable members to attend the national Republican and Democratic conventions.

The rules body later heard testimony by Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the House armed services committee. He is sponsor of the draft bill which his committee approved 28 to 5.

Roosevelt Had Selected Hopkins In 1938 as Presidential Successor

WASHINGTON, May 20 (P)—President Roosevelt in 1938 had chosen Harry L. Hopkins to run for president in 1940, but Hopkins' ill health later caused abandonment of the plan, Robert E. Sherwood reported today.

In the first of a series in Collier's magazine based on Hopkins' secret papers, Sherwood, author-dramatist who assisted Roosevelt in preparing many of his speeches, told of an "extraordinary private conversation" at the White House in the Spring of 1938.

At this meeting, Sherwood said Hopkins' papers disclosed, Roosevelt vetoed seven potential Democratic presidential candidates before picking Hopkins.

Roosevelt first discussed Hopkins' political liabilities—that he had been divorced and his health was bad—but ended by expressing "the belief that Hopkins would be elected and would do the best job as president of any of those then in the running," Sherwood wrote.

As part of a build-up for Hopkins, the article said, the President appointed him secretary of commerce on Christmas eve, 1938.

This all came to naught, however, for Hopkins was stricken with a near-fatal illness in the next year and a half and he was unable to run. The illness even "drained him of all personal ambition," Sherwood wrote.

President Says Youth In 'Age of Opportunity'

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (P)—President Truman said today the world is living "in the greatest age in history"—an "age of opportunity."

And in a speech before 1300 fatherless boys, students at Girard college, the Chief Executive of the United States expressed a nostalgic "wish that I could be 18 again, to live through this age with you."

Albright Official Tells Athletes to Strive for Peace

A challenge to local athletes to work for world peace and international understanding through sports was sounded in a speech by Eugene Shirk, director of athletics at Albright college, last night before the Lions club of Boyertown, as seven varsity basketball players received gold trophies from the local service group.

Shirk spent a major portion of his talk describing the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin, at which he was a visitor. He told of the enormous preparations made by the German nation to entertain the sports world. The main stadium, he said, contained seats for 100,000 spectators, while surrounding it were six smaller stadiums accommodating 35,000 persons for swimming, tennis and the theater.

Shirk praised the athletic setup in Boyertown schools, pointing out that Gene Venzke ran in the 1936 Olympics and that Jerry Karver is a good prospect to make the 1948 team. Both attended local schools and Karver is a graduate here.

THE BACKGROUND must be here for sound, physical development," he said, adding that "amateur sports still remain at the top."

Receiving gold basketballs from the Lions club were Fred Smith, captain of the 1947-48 team; Richard Neiman, Richard Rothenberger, Jack Rothenberger, Paul Meatz Jr., William Levensood and Jack Schenely, manager. Anthony Albright, who was not present, was also awarded one.

Other members of the varsity squad who were present, in addition to those seniors who received the gold awards, were James Hallman, Donald Mackey, Jacob Hartline, all players; and Darwin Schenely, an assistant manager.

W. Sterling Keller was program chairman. Birthday roses were awarded to Louis J. Lignelli and James A. Fritz. Russell R. Schaeffer, second vice president, presided at the meeting in Boyertown inn.

Telephone Directories Distributed in Area

Distribution of new telephone directories has begun in Boyertown and vicinity and will be completed next week.

Approximately 2500 copies of the new green-covered books will be delivered in this area, comprising the Boyertown, Bally and Sassamansville exchanges. The old directories will be collected for paper salvage by the distributors.

The 2500 copies represents an increase of 250 over the previous distribution. The new volumes contain 46,925 alphabetical listings, an increase of 4400.

The new book will be the last directory to be published with the present Boyertown telephone numbers. Before the next book is printed, all Boyertown numbers will have to be changed due to the inauguration of the dial system of operation here. All numbers will then have a prefix "7" followed by four numbers.

Poultry Destroyed At Barlo Farm Fire; Loss Set at $50

Fire destroyed 75 one-day old chicks at the farm of Wayne Kemp, Barlo RD., on the Bally-Crow hill road one and one-half miles northwest of Bally the past Wednesday morning at 1:30 o'clock.

The building, described as "small," was completely destroyed but firemen of Goodwill Fire company, Bally, responded to a call and confined the flames to the chicken house.

A barn adjacent to the burned structure was under constant guard by the firemen to prevent the flame's spread to it. A moderate breeze carried embers from the chicken coup toward the barn and firemen had to exercise vigilance to confine the blaze.

Loss was light because the chickens were young and the building old, it was stated. Damage was fixed at $50.

The blaze may have started from an overheated stove, it was said yesterday. Harold Mutter, chief of the Goodwill company, was in charge. Firemen returned to Bally at 2:30 a. m.

Speaking from a past rich with personal experiences, Miss Helen Moll, former major with the U. S. Army Nursing corps, yesterday talked to members of the Women's Society of Trinity Reformed church when they met at the home of Mrs. Fred Van Buskirk Sr., of life in occupied Japan, of life as she knew it while traveling with the army in the European theater of war and life as it is now in Japan.

Miss Moll, who is now head nurse at Ursinus college, volunteered for a year's service in Japan after having served with the troops in Europe and yesterday showed colored slides which she had taken during that year. One picture interesting to the group was that of St. Luke's International hospital. It contained a thousand beds and was built by the Episcopal church.

ANOTHER PICTURE of interest was that showing thousands of Christian worshippers holding a dawn Easter service in the Meiji Bowl, which had been built as a memorial to the Shinto emperor. Other pictures were those of the Meiji college, a Reformed church school, and of Ueno park, rich in shrines and Buddha temples and cherry blossoms.

She read a letter she had received from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ankeny, North Japan college, describing life in Japan today.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Burdian, Rosedale Drive.

THOSE ATTENDING were Mrs. A. W. Dotterer, Mrs. John McHenry, Mrs. Kathryn Gallagher, Mrs. Calvin Sweisford, Mrs. Jesse Evans, Mrs. E. S. Fretz, Mrs. Barclay Sheetz, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. Lewis Shoe-maker, Mrs. Kline Geyer, Mrs. Laura Christman, Mrs. Earl Clay, Mrs. George Funk, Mrs. C. C. Burdian, Mrs. Black Bower, Mrs. John Frantz, Mrs. Elizabeth Biederwolf, Mrs. Raymond Carl, Mrs. Eli Ludwig, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Margaret Hoffer, Mrs. Paul Towers, Mrs. Van Buskirk and Miss Moll.

Missionary Society Sponsors Banquet In Brethren Church

Seventy-five women attended the Mothers' and Daughters' banquet last night in Baltzell Evangelical United Brethren church, sponsored by the Women's Missionary society.

The message was delivered by Mrs. James Smith, who told of the great effort and character required by a mother to raise children in a Christian environment.

Mrs. Smith declared "Motherhood is a sacred privilege and miracle yet to be explained."

The program opened with a piano duet, "Tales From the Vienna Woods," played by Mrs. William Rily and Ruth Anne Rily. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Adeline Bae-shore, followed by readings from Mrs. James Simpson and Mrs. Harry Schaffer.

Mrs. George Grebe sang a solo: Mrs. J. W. Altung and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kibby, sang a duet, while a poem was recited by Mrs. Minnie Strubhar.

After Mrs. Smith's address, Suzanne Kirby played a piano solo. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor.

Men of the church served at the tables. They were J. W. Altung, William Rily, Charles Decker and Everett Freese.

Historic Laurel Locks Estate to Be Visited, Tomorrow by Large Throng of Homelovers

Tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock, the Pottstown public will have the rare opportunity of visiting and inspecting the historic Laurel Locks estate, just outside of Pottstown on Route 83.

For the first time in its history, the lovely spacious home, owned by Mrs. C. D. Marshall, and the beautifully landscaped gardens—now in full bloom—will be thrown open to the public. All proceeds from the affair, which is being sponsored by the Senior auxiliary of Pottstown hospital, will be used to provide funds for the Cancer Detection clinic of the hospital.

GUIDES WILL BE supplied, eighteen women in charming Colonial costume, to lead all visitors to the many points of interest throughout the estate. It is expected that visitors will enter the two century old house at the side entrance, climb the winding staircase and first view the large collection of dolls gathered by Mrs. Marshall, then after touring the house be escorted by guides through and among the many formal gardens.

Most impressive of the gardens is the rare old "barnyard gardens", situated at the side front of the home. It is so-called because at one time it was the site of the old stone barn, the walls from the original barn still standing and being used as a backdrop for the sunken gardens.

GUESTS WILL BE allowed to trot up the old paths past the swimming pool, view the site of the old canal which ends at the farm, and take a turn to the right to travel down the tow path, used in years gone by, by the canal horses and view the site of the canal locks.

Of interest also will be the present guest house which at one time was the original quarters for dairy men. Two tea houses on the estate will also be used for the serving of tea to the expected 500 visitors.

Co-chairman in charge of the entire affair are Mrs. Dennison K. Bullens and Mrs. Franklin Wertz. They are assisted by over 40 members in the elaborate arrangements for the event which will be held rain or shine.

West Pottsgrove High School PTA Views Work Done by Arts and Crafts Students

An exhibition of art, shop and home economics projects made by the students during the school year, were displayed on Wednesday night when the West Pottsgrove High School PTA held its regular monthly meeting in the schoolhouse.

The art class, under the direction of Mr. John V. Balladons, and consisting of the Senior High, Junior High and elementary schools exhibited a great variety of subject matter, including: floor plans, abstract designs, commercial art, landscape, composition and action studies.

Lamps, end tables, book ends, unusual stands of tables and various types of neck-shelf shelves were displayed by the boys from the industrial art classes under the direction of Mr. William J. Sullivan.

A demonstration of sewing machine attachments was given by June and Jen Keller, after which a short business meeting was held.

A fashion show, sponsored by the home economics department, and held on a stage which was decorated to resemble a beautiful garden, followed the business meeting.

The commentator Barbara Groover, explained that the purpose of the show was to illustrate what should and should not be worn by certain types of figures and personalities. First models to appear were Kathryn Boyer and Laura Axsmith, both representing the feminine girl. "Kathryn's dress," announced Miss Groover, "is feminine with its pastel coloring of brown and white striped cotton pique, soft gathers, patch pockets and rick-rack neck and pocket trimming. Laura's rayon print is too bold for the dainty feminine girl, as we are more conscious of the dress than of Laura's personality. They just don't seem to belong to each other."

MARLENE Matz and June Keller both appeared in gowns suitable for the feminine type. They featured soft lines, pastel shades, ruffles and unusual necklines. A pretty sheet cotton print with soft gathered skirt, boat-shaped rolled collar trimmed with bows, and styled for afternoon wear was modeled by Anna Rull.

Representing the athletic type girl was Jean Keller, who wore an attractive sport dress which boasted tailored lines and simple style. The dress was made by Miss Keller, and won a second prize at the Harrisburg State Fair show.

Demonstrating the "do's" and "don'ts" for tall girls (5'7" or over) were Anna Marie DiGiosia and Mary Ann Cooney, both modeling wool skirts made by Betty Ehling. Miss DiGiosia's striped plaid skirt and unpressed pleats carried the eye around the body, while Miss Cooney's skirt of unpressed pleats and plain material has a tendency to carry the eye upward, which made her look even taller than usual. "Tall girls have the best figures for skirts and blouses," declared Miss Groover.

MODELING FOR the short girl, (5 feet 3 inches or under) was Mary Melchiorre in a dress styled with a wide waist band, push-up sleeves and small print flowers. A costume to be avoided by short chubby girls, consisting of a gathered skirt and

Capacity Audience Views 'Meal Time Minstrels'

A capacity audience last night witnessed the first presentations of the "Mealtime Minstrels," presented by the Mothers' club of St. Paul's Reformed church in the Sunday school rooms, the novelty act, "When You Were a Yellow Tulip," with Mrs. Austin Sunstrom and Mrs. Fred Spielman taking high honors.

The silly antics and crazier costumes of the pair brought forth a roar of laughter and applause from the audience an encore.

The audience participated in the show at times, singing several vocal numbers with the chorus.

The show was voted a most particular success in view of the fact that most of the mothers had not been on a stage of any type since they were children in school. A repeat performance will be given tonight at 8 o'clock.

Chocolate should always be melted at a low temperature. An easy way to melt it is to put it in a small heat-resistant glass dish that fits over a teakettle.

ruffled blouse, was modeled by Barbara Olock.

Several "personality" aprons were also modeled by Anna Ciori, and Joanne Schmuck.

After modeling a ballet costume she had made and designed, Miss Olock favored the audience with a ballet dance.

Mrs. Winters explained the workings of the various departmental sections of the five divisions of the society. An informal discussion followed her address.

MRS. RAYMOND RUSSELL read the scriptures with the prayer given by Mrs. Jessie Houck. Mrs. Lester Bush was in charge of the program.

Lifebuoy with its Purifying Ingredient GETS SKIN CLEANER STOPS "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

It's great to be popular! On your job or on dates you always get along better if you're pleasant to have around. A daily Lifebuoy bath gives you top protection from "B.O."—lasting protection 24 hours a day.

DOCTORS PROVED with 820 scientific tests the truth of this amazing statement...

The cleaner you get your skin, the doctors found, the safer you are from "B.O." (body odor). Any soap will remove all the grime and perspiration you can see—yet leave "invisible dirt" on your skin to form a foothold for "B.O."

Doctors compared the effects of daily baths with different soaps. The results are amazing! When you bathe with any other leading soap, you are simply not as clean, not as safe from "B.O." as you are when you bathe with Lifebuoy. After 820 scientific tests doctors say Lifebuoy's purifying ingredient makes the difference! And it is this same purifying ingredient that makes Lifebuoy so mild.

Use Lifebuoy daily. It is made from a special oil blend that gives you such an abundant, refreshing lather. Remember: Lifebuoy gives you cleaner skin... stops "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

ROOM and BOARD by Gene Ahern

HENCEFORTH, JUNIOR, YOU MAY CALL ME "PETROLEUM PUFFLE"! I INVESTED $1000 IN THE DRILLING OF AN OIL WELL CALLED THE "LI'L' EVA"!

THE WELL IS - ON A FARM, AND FROM WHAT I'VE HEARD, THE SOIL IS SO SATURATED WITH CRUDE, THE FARMER USES ASPARAGUS FOR CANDLES!

WHY'D DEY CALL IT "LI'L' EVA"?-- SHE WENT UP, AN' YER WELL IS GOIN' DOWN!

PETROLEUM PUFFLE, THE GUSHER--

Weigh What He Shows

IN THE late bidding, when you are considering what may be the final act by your side in the auction, it is well to weigh carefully the strength your partner has shown. If his only bid or bids came after you had made an appreciable strength-showing call, such as a double especially, you should not count on him for too much. It may prove costly then to lift the contract too high. Perhaps you can raise it just a bit and leave it up to him to see if he wants to go further.

merit of probably not getting doubled if it couldn't be made, and possibly getting doubled into game if it could be.

As it developed, East said I would have doubled three and would have presented his opponents with a game on a silver platter, as exactly nine tricks were taken in the declarer. The defenders' trick consisted of the heart A, spade to the Q, the spade A and the diamond A, but South got all the rest.

The key for North was that South passed on his first turn instead of overcalling 1-Heart, and then entered the bidding only after North had doubled 1-No Trump. Reflection? North should have shown that the could easily be on even a considerably worse hand than South as

A's Lose to Detroit by 4-2 For Third Straight Defeat

DETROIT, May 20 (AP)—The faltering Philadelphia Athletics fell dangerously near third place in the American league today as the Detroit Tigers shellacked three Philadelphia pitchers for 15 blows taking the opener of a three-game series 4 to 2.

FRED HUTCHISON

Freddie Hutchinson, talented Detroit right-hander, rattled the A's to five hits, one of them Sam Chapman's two-run homer, as Philadelphia dropped its third straight game, retaining a narrow half-game second place edge over the New York Yankees.

Everybody in the Tiger lineup but Eddie Mayo hit safely at least once as the Macks paraded Carl Scheib, Bob Savage and Charles Harris, all right-handers, to the mound.

AND THOUGH the Tigers had at least one hit in every inning, the runs came hard. Three singles in a bunch produced only one tally in the fourth inning and four more hits—all singles—netted two runs in the fifth before Bob Swift's homer, Detroit's 12th blow of the game, Scheib with nobody out in the sixth.

By the time they were through with Savage, who worked two innings, and Harris, who pitched the eighth, the Tigers had equalled their highest hit total of the year, 15, with Pat Mullin, rookie George Vico and Swift each collecting three.

Hutchinson's victory was his third of the year against two defeats.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs capped three pitchers for 14 hits today to score a 5-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and capture the series, two games to one.

The Cubs jumped on Walt Dubiel for three runs in the first inning. Eddie Waitkus and Andy Pafko singled and both rode home when Eddie Miller and Johnny Blatnik collided chasing Bill Nicholson's short fly to left. The ball dropped for a triple and Nicholson scored a moment later on Bob Scheffing's single.

Shortstop Roy Smalley's first major league homer and a double-single combination by Nicholson and Scheffing gave Russ Meyer a five-run advantage.

The Phils knocked Meyer from the box in a three-run seventh inning rally. A walk, singles by Richie Ashburn and Dick Sisler and a double by Del Ennis brought in three runs. Bob Chipman finished out the game.

It was Meyer's fourth victory of the season for the seventh place Cubs. Blatnik's hitting string was stopped at 10 games.

Joseph Wins Feature At Yellow Jacket

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—Mike Joseph, of Philadelphia, came through with his first victory of the year in the midge automobile races tonight, taking the 25-lap William Penn handicap at the Yellow Jacket oval.

Joseph set all of the pace and covered the five miles over the one-fifth mile track in 5:38.49. The race was run in light rain.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—Big Steuart (Skip) Alexander playing in his first Professional Golfers Association championship, won the qualifying medal today with a record-equaling 36-hole score of 134.

The 29-year-old husky from Lexington, N. C., shattered par by seven strokes as he compiled an amazing 64, lowest score of the tournament, and a record for the Norwood Hills Country club course, to go with his opening round of 70.

The two-round feat equalled the PGA qualifying record which Jim Ferrer set at Portland, Ore., in 1946. It also put the bespectacled North Carolinian one stroke ahead of Toney Penna the Cincinnati veteran, who has a 65.

RIGHT BEHIND Penna slamming Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Jimmy Demaret, the gaudily-garbed Ojai, Calif., crooner, tied for third place at 136. Each had a pair of 68's over the rolling, 6467-yard par 71 course.

The first-day leaders, Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., who had 66's yesterday, failed to maintain the hot pace.

Hogan blowing himself to a six on the 403-yard, par four 16th, wound up with a 72 and a 138 total. Hamilton came up with a gaudy seven on the par five 14th, longest hole on the course at 555 yards. He qualified comfortably with a 139 after taking a 73 on today's round.

SCORES OF 149 or better for the 36 holes came inside the qualifying record and six players, with 150's went into a sudden death playoff for the last four places in the match-play bracket of 64.

Ferrer, the defending champion, qualified automatically for match play and didn't even go out today. Two 18-hole rounds begin the match phase of the tournament tomorrow. The remaining matches will be at 36 holes.

In all, 15 players out of the original field of 135 bettered par for the two rounds and two others equalled the 142 figure.

Mobile Police Unit To Be on Exhibit Here Next Week

A "Jail on Wheels" completely equipped with police equipment, a cell, and a genuine electric chair, will be on exhibit at High and Penn streets Monday and Tuesday as part of a nation-wide fight against juvenile delinquency, its designer, former Sheriff J. Edward Slavin, New Haven, Conn., announced yesterday.

Slavin said the exhibit, which will be available to adults as well as school children, is being brought to Pottstown at the request of Burgess William A. Griffith. Its purpose is to show to children that the glorified criminal is a 100 percent loser the minute he starts.

The completely motorized unit, about as large as a cross-country bus, contains displays of the newest in police equipment for tracing, capturing, and double purpose of pointing out to police departments the equipment they should have to be most efficient, Slavin explained.

Included in the vehicle's equipment are a drunkometer used in sobriety tests, all police weapons: sub-machine guns, rifles, shot-guns, revolvers, gas and riot guns, and gas bombs. Also on exhibit are leg-irons, handcuffs and iron-claws; bullet-proof vests; detection powder and ultra-violet ray equipment; complete teletype and fingerprinting apparatus; a large magnet capable of lifting three guns or six pistols from under water; a real jail cell; a soundcriber, an electronic device for recording on small discs confessions and confidential information; and a collection of police badges.

The electric chair is an exact duplicate of the one used at Connecticut State prison and other state prisons.

Finland Censures Communist Minister

HELSINKI, Finland, May 20 (AP)—Tension between the extreme left and other political parties developed into a government crisis tonight.

The issue was a vote of censure, 81 to 61, against Irjo Leino, Communist minister of the interior last night. Leino was criticized for allowing the extradition of 20 persons to the Soviet Union and for the police treatment of arrested Finnish officers in 1945.

Political circles looked for Leino's resignation today, but there were indications that he plans to remain in office.

At a meeting tonight the Peoples Democratic party supported Leino. The Conservatives and Social Democrats said parliamentary custom demanded that Leino resign.

As a last resort, President Juho Paasikivi may have to dismiss Leino, it was believed.
